

Chapter 6:

Enjoy the New Adventure!

Congrats—you've made it through the course and are now prepared to successfully work remotely from your RV. It's such a privilege to be able to work and travel, and ultimately live a life you've dreamt of, so remember to enjoy it. As you find your groove, remind yourself that it's okay to slow down.

Some RVers try to do too much and move too quickly, so try to remember what your free time was like when you were stationary. Most people have trouble enjoying their location on work days, but you can integrate adventures into your schedule based on where you are. Save the bigger adventures for your days off to have something to look forward to.

Try to have a mindset that puts work first. While it may be tempting to get distracted or want to push work off, remember what funds your travels. Ensure that you're able to get your work done, but the second you sign off, be ready to fully enjoy where you're at. Make the most of your situation, and, as the saying goes: Work hard but play even harder.

Write down three places you dream of taking your office on wheels to:

1. _____
2. _____
3. _____

What office views do you want to experience the most?
